the Address of George A. Thatcher, Esq. was very good. He exhibited a streng zeal in the farming interest, and an uncommon practical knowledge of agriculture, for one whose life has principally been spent in mercantile pursuits. There were many very good suggestions in it, one of which struck us especially; and hat was, that we ought to have an agricultural stirvey of the State. Is not this subject worthy of great consideration? Why not legislate for the farmer as well as for the manufacturer? Let us devote our strongest energies to advance the prosperity of the farmer, for without it no. other pursuit can succeed for any length of BRIBERY to. ROBBERY AND FRAUD. I " The "Democrat" says the United States Bank, during the four years previous to the expiration of its sharter, loaned 205 members of Congress $1,647,81, and this it calls "bribery." These members of Congress, probably, if they borrowed this amount, paid the principal spainterest, as honest men, and not like the Globe editor, who discharged a debt of twenty two thousand dollers, which the same Bank loaned star and medals at to be given at the close of him, by paying only $200!
